GARBER WELL IS A

DISAPPOINTMENT

The important well of the Sinclair

Oil & Gas company in section 25-22-4 was drilled through the sand yesterday without finding its bottom. There were 17 feet of sand from 1227 to 1239 feet and at 1239 feet the drill went into water.

It is reported that the well made a flow of oil and water late last night, but that it has now shut itself off and is not producing.

The result of the disappointing is a disappointment. Much was expected of the well for its performance of only a little way in the sand indicated a good well when completely drilled in.

The lease brokers who have held meetings and the big companies who have spent legions of thousands of dollars around the well playing the shallow sand are hit hard. And the farmers, many of them who received ridiculous sums for stuff several miles from the well are bewailing their misfortune.

The well has been producing about barrels daily of high gravity oil and is a paying producer so it stands to reason will be saved and the rest will probably be deepened.

A full-detailed report of the commission's visit will be made in a later date. Mr. Butler, representative of the American Pig Iron Association said:

"We talked with David Lloyd George in Paris" said Mr. Douglas "and were given a verbal invitation by him to extend our visit to England to talk with us of trade and commercial matters to follow the war. He stated that it is not planned that Germany shall be put entirely out of the running by the war, that she will have to be considered and dealt with in a commercial way after peace is declared."

"A full-detailed report of the commission's visit will be made in a later date. Mr. Butler, representative of the American Pig Iron Association said:

"We know too little of the staggering ruinous of England and France, and the sooner we wake up to our opportunities and encourage in every way increased trade with them, the better off we will be."

Dr. Morton Prince of Boston, an uncle of Norman Prince, the American aviator recently killed in France, also arrived on the Philadelphia. He had been chosen as the Boston representative of the Serbian relief committee.

Another passenger on the ship was Capt. John C. Calahan of the Pioneer Battalion Engineers from Montreal. Captain Calahan was hit in the back by a section of a nine-inch shell on September 15 and is so badly wounded that he is now paralyzed. He was brought home by his father, C. H. Calahan, and will be placed in a hospital here for treatment.

Peter A. Jay, counsel of the American embassy at Rome, also returned here after 16 years absence. The Philadelphia brought 600 passengers.

Treated With Courtesy.—According to Mr. Douglass the party was treated with every courtesy while in France. They were given military escort and furnished with special trains and automobiles for their trips to the various cities. At Paris, the military attaché of the American embassy was assigned to accompany them in full uniform.

"We talked with David Lloyd George in Paris" said Mr. Douglass "and were given a verbal invitation by him to extend our visit to England to talk with us of trade and commercial matters to follow the war. He stated that it is not planned that Germany shall be put entirely out of the running by the war, that she will have to be considered and dealt with in a commercial way after peace is declared."
